BHOPAL; THE NEXT CHOICE FOR
QUALITY EDUCATION AMONGST THE CAREER ASPIRANTS

The capital city of Madhya Pradesh, Bhopal is also known as 'the city of lakes' and is the cleanest capital city in the entire country. The city is a growing hub of educational and research based institutes and is situated just north of the upper limit of the Vindhya mountain ranges Founded in the 11th century by Paramara King, Raja Bhoj and developed later by Dost Mohammad Khan, it was the Begum rule that brought basic amenities of railways, education and roadways to the city. Bhopal is also home to two World Heritage Sites namely Bhimbetka Caves and Sanchi Stupa. It also houses the largest Mosque of India, the Taj-ul-Masajid 'Crown of the Mosques'.

The city is well connected by air with its primary airport, Raja Bhoj International Airport situated in Bairagarh and is one of the most rail connected cities in India which halts more than 200 daily trains. National Highway 46 forms a ring-road around Bhopal which connects it to Jabalpur in the East (via NH 45). NH 146, a branch of NH 46, connects the city to Sagar in the East. State Highway 18 connects the city with Indore (with Sehore and Dewas on the way). State Highway 23 connects the city to Guna and Berasia in the north.
